PAPERJAM retain ownership of all design work including words, pictures, ideas, visuals and illustrations unless specifically released in writing and after all costs have been settled.

If a choice of design is presented, only one solution is deemed to be given by PAPERJAM as fulfilling the contract. All other designs remain the property of PAPERJAM, unless agreed in writing that this arrangement has been changed.

PAPERJAM's hours of business are 9am – 5pm, Monday to Friday

Accounts which remain outstanding for 30 days after the date of invoice, will incur an extra charge of 5% per month of the outstanding amount. Customers whose accounts become default agree to pay PAPERJAM reasonable legal expenses and third party collection agency fees in the enforcement of these Terms and Conditions.

2. Estimates, Acceptance & Project Commencement.

At the time of proposal, PAPERJAM will provide the customer with an estimate or quotation. This will normally be sent by email. Acceptance of the written estimate or quotation is to be sent by return. If the client sends an order to begin work or approval of artwork to go to print this will act as acceptance of the estimate or quotation which binds the client to accept PAPERJAM's terms and conditions. No work on a project will commence until acceptance has been received by PAPERJAM.

All estimates given by PAPERJAM will be valid for 28 days from the date of estimate.

If the client's final order changes from the original specification made for the quotation, PAPERJAM reserves the right to vary the estimate.

Estimates assume that the all content such as copy, text, pictures, graphs, pie charts, tables and other illustrations received from the client are correct, final and require no further amendments.

Estimates assume that there will be a maximum of two sets of proofs and amendments/ corrections for all work. Excessive author's amendments (in excess of two sets of proofs/changes) will be charged out at our hourly rate.

3. Charges

3.a. Design Charges

Work on the project will not commence until PAPERJAM has received this amount.

PAPERJAM's hours of business are 9am – 5pm, Monday to Friday. Any work carried out outside these hours is at the discretion of PAPERJAM and can be subject to an increased rate beyond agreed quotations.

4. Turnaround times

It is up to the client to set themselves realistic timescales for the production of graphic design and/or printed work. As well as weekends, national holidays and the constraints of normal office hours, there are elements of the creative and printing process which cannot be fast-tracked (such as creative generation, copywriting, print drying times, folding etc).

Where quoted, turnaround times are normal target times only and PAPERJAM accepts no liability for failure to meet these times, but will always use its best endeavors to do so.

Where a client misses a time critical deadline, this may result in their work missing printing slots booked on a client's behalf. This will usually result in missed delivery deadlines. We will use our best endeavors to minimise the adverse impact of missed deadlines – but the onus is on the client to meet agreed deadlines in the first place.

5. Payment

The customer will be provided with an opportunity to sign off prior to final publication. The customer will be required to sign and return the Approval Form to PAPERJAM.
